TORONTO, Ontario, Aug. 16.—Sir Joseph Rickson has written a letter to the Globe in reference to complaints made by American rallways against the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific roads. Sir Joseph says: "Their complaint is not well founded and it is no secret that their desire is to prevent Canadian companies carrying United States traffic at all and not that they should be sub pect in their traffic arrangements to the pro-visions of the interstate commerce act of the United States Congress. The Canadian companies from the date when the Interstate Commerce act came into effect have recognized that it was incumbent upon them in dealing with traffic to or from the United States and Canada, or traffic passing through Canada from one State to another of the United States, to observe the terms and conditions of the interstate commerce act."

Sir Joseph concludes as follows:

West Shore and Central engines crowded every track from the north to the south side of the depot, and for a long distance east. The Belt Line train due at 8 o'clock stoped at Chicago street and the passengers walked in as they did from the same last Saturday morning. I guess the res of the men were with them and will stand by them. So don't be surprised if you hear omething drop. I don't know anything about the firemen going out. I only know the switchmen are out at Black Rock and East Buffalo on both the Central and West Shore roads."

switchmen are out at Black Rock and East Buffalo on both the Central and West Shore roads."

STRUCK AT BLACK ROCK.

A telephone message from Black Rock stated that all the Central switchmen had struck there this morning, but that the firemen were still at work. The West Shore is not affected at Black Rock. The strike of the West Shore men is greeted with joy by the old strikers, who see in it renewed hope for the success of their movement. A detail of fifty policemen were sent out to East Buffalo to preserve order and special officers were numerous about the Central depot.

Supt. Burrows was seen later at the Bailey avenue crossing, where he was surveying the situation. He said that no freight trains were being moved, but she passenger trains were being moved, but she passenger trains were going through all right, though late.

The action of the switchmen gives a new phase to the Central strike. It has now spread beyond the Knights of Lubor. The men who went out this morning are members of she Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association, a national organization extending all ever the country. It has a membership of about eight hundred in this city. Comparatively few switchmen are in the Knights of Lubor here. It was Grand Master Sweeney of the switchmen's organization, who ordered this morning's strike. He arrived here last night. It is said by the men that the strike is likely to extend all over the Vanderbits system if the trouble here is not speedily settled, and that it certainly will spread should an effort be made to have non-union switchmen handle Contral or West Shore trains. It is also stated that should roads outside the Vanderbit system consent to take Contral freight the switchmen on those outside roads will be called out. In this connection, it is reported that the Erie road has retused to on those outside roads will be called out. In this connection, it is reported that the Erie road has refused to handle Central freight, fearing trouble with its switchmen. There is no concealing the fact that the switchmen's strike has greatly added to the gravity of the situation.

here is broken for West Albany, where the big blockade of freight has held since last Friday, is rapidly being cleared out. "The road," said Mr. Bissell this morning, "expects to send out about a thousand of the stailed freight cars before night. The trains out of New York and Buffalo are going through all right."

There have been two or three narrow escapes from severe accidents occasioned by green hands. The passenger trains are arriving here on time, and it looks as though the prediction of the road that the strike is over is true. The strikers, however, are confident that such is not the case and the hourly bulletins declare that this is only the beginning. The leaders say that they are only waiting for orders and then there will be a general shuddewn. A good deal of comment was caused this morning by the editorial article of Mr. Powderly in the organ of labor. It is said that its general the deceptance of defeat and an intimation that no ald will be received from the firemen and engineers. In one place Mr. Powderly says: "That the cause of the men is just we know; but we also know that the fact of its justice does not insure its success." In another place he says: "True wisdom would counsel other organized labor bodies on the road to help us, but we cannot with any certainty count upon its presence now."

Whether the strike is over or not it is a singular fact that the road has brought more Pinkerton men here to day. There are now stationed here at least 500 of these guards.

WILL HE LEAVE ROME?

SOME OF THE REASONS WHY THE POPE MAY SEEK A NEW RESIDENCE.

Marie de Pastoret—Value of the Estate— Views of American Catholics on the ed Removal From the Italian rumor which reached this city feet that Pope Leo templating a re-moval from Rome excited much comment. The dispatch stated that the Manchester (England) Courier, under date of August 14, says.

that in consequence Pope Leo XIII. of the flerce perseeil. A further strength was given to the story by the fact that the Pope had just formally ccepted the magnificent bequest of a Paris lady, comprising a palace in the French capital and a castle at Moreuil, France, valued at 5,000,000 francs.

In reference to this matter the editor of L' Eco d'Italia in this city said yesterday to a reporter that it was true that the municipal elections in Rome were carried entirely by the iberals, and that the Clericals were no doubt greatly disappointed. He thought, however, that the Pope enjoyed the greatest, liberty in that the Pope enjoyed the greatest, liberty in the Vatican, and that the policy of the Italian Government was not formed by Crispi alone. The Pope, he said, was the supreme ruler in the Citta Leonina, which is a city within acity, and that there seemed no occasion for his holiness removing to another country. His power was absolute in his little dominion and was not subject to the jurisdiction of even King Humbert.

The PALACE AND ITS DONOR.

The letter from Rome describing the bequest of the Paris lady was received in this city yesterdhy by the editor of the Catholic News. This communication says: "The name of the testarix is Marie De Pastoret, Countess De Rouge and Marquise Du Pleasis-Beljiero. She died July 4 last in her chateau of Moreuli in the 15th year of her age, and was buried in the obage! of that chateau. Formerly the decreased was wont to pass the winters in Paris and the summers at Moreuli, but of late years she shad quitted Paris to settle in Rome, where, as has already been said, she rented an apartment in Palace Spinoia, Pazza Campitelli. AN HISTORIC ESTATE.

The Chateau de Moreull, department of the Somme, three hours' journey by rail from Paris, is a true remnant of feudal times. Although composed of divers edifices varying as to epoch and style nevertheless the whole bears a distinctly medseval character. In fact the major portion of the chateau itself dates from the middle ages, and historical records tell of several sleges, resisted by its stout walls. Annexed to the chateau is a commodious and handsome chapel, always open to the public. It possesses, furthermore, a magnificent collection of over seven hundred paintings, half of which are of the first masterpieces from the great Italian and foreign artists. Access to this picture gallery has ever been free to all visitors. The chateau stands in the center of an immense park, beyond which are extensive farms with cottages, farm houses, etc. All this property is bequeathed by the Marquise Du Pleassis. Belliere in perpetuty to the sovereign pontificant in his person to the Holy See. Legacles el me of daily mass in the chapel, to be ever open to the public, and the conservation of the pleture stallery with the like obligations of free access to all.

The testamentary executor is Mgr. de Ragmeau, Papai Privy Chamberlain, who has for many years been one of the household of the deceased Marquise; he is a prelate of, high inselectual culture and courteons in manners and bearing. He is now in Rome on business connected with this bequest and on Sunday, July 20, had a prolonged audience of His Holiness, who has accepted the inheritance without liability to debts beyond assets and has named as his representative for all requisite legal acts connected therewith Mgr. Henry Foichi, Vice Camelingo of the Holy Roman Church and administrator of the property of the Holy See. This prelate will leave for Paris this week.

COURTESY TO THE POPE.

It is reported on the authority of the Reforms of Rome that the French Government has abrogated the inheritance tax in order to show courtesy to the Pope. The Itale, commenting on the "good fortune which has befallen the Pope," says: "When driven from Rome he can quietly repair to his own chateau without being under obligations to any foreign power for hospitality and refuge." It is well known that the Papai Nuncio is received by President Carnot with consideration equal to other foreign ambassadors, and that the Government of France is not averse to having the Pontifical establishment in that country. Several Frenchmen, who were seen yesterday by a reporter, agreed that there could be no doubt of the grand reception given to his Holiness either in Paris or in Moreuli, and that the vast estate at the latter place would be a magnificent site for a new vationa. They olted the fact that Pope Plus VII. remained for several years in France, although Bonaparte Unquestionably coerced his Holiness.

Well-Founded Report That One Will boon Be Appointed for America.

F. Telegraph to the Post-Disparch. Boston, Aug. 18 .- There are two well authenticated reports in connection with the meeting of the archbishops in Boston which have only just now come to light. One is that one cause of the council was the application that in consequence Pope Leo XIII. of the fierce personution of the church, which is the policy of Premier Crispl, the Pope will soon issue a manifesto to the Roman Catholics throughout the world giving his intention of leaving Rome together with his court and all of his adherents. The same paper says that from a practical point of view this means ruin to Rome, for with the Pontiff will go also the cardinals, the prelates, and the vast number of persons who annually go to Rome as pilligrims. In fact, commercial ruin stares shop keepers there in the face. Continuing, the same paper says that Rome is fast becoming the headquarters of "atheism and free thought."

WHAT IS SAID IN NEW YORK.

The news was received by Catholics in this city with a good deal of incredulity, and a somewhat similar rumor of about a year ago was referred to as having emanated from the same source. The other story, however, carried the somewhat startling statement that the Pope would in all probability remove to America, where it was universally conceded His Holiness would be treated with the highest consideration. The latest rumor was coupled with the fact that at the recent municipal election in Rome the Clerical party had been wholly defeated and had not secured a single representative in the Romeira, Authorical Council. A further strength was given to the story by the fact that the Pope had just formally to Rome that a Papal Nuncto be appointed in America, that is, that a permanent Papal representative remain here, who will decide all

Now all the inhabitants within the borders of Salvador are solld for him and his election to the presidency in the coming elections is assured. Everything is quiet in the Republic and will unquestionably remain so. It was rumored here to day that President Ezeta was becoming uneasy and had declared that if peace was not brought about within three days he would order the army of occupation to move on to the Guatemalan capital.

When the plains and valleys of Colorado and Wyoming were first used as pastures, the supply of sheep was drawn from the quarters where the Mexican sheep were found, and an attempt was made to breed up by introducing a few Morinos. It was not as successful as it might have been, as the Mexican sheep seems to have a peculiar faculty of retaining its characteristics. But by a steadily pursued course the Mexican blood was finally eliminated, and now the Colorado sheep are pure Merinos, and the same can be said of the flocks of Southwestern Texas, where the Mexican sheep a few years ago was the only breed to be found. The result has been an increase in the average weight of the Colorado fleece from less than five to over eight pounds. Nearly all this wool comes to this story was not learned. To day he made a cuting Attorney Dierkes and made application for warrants charging Capt. William Young, commanding the Central District Station, and Sergt. George Mueller with oppression in office.

Storts had another row last night, for which he was not wholly responsible. It appears that Jeff and his brother Brock passed the corner of Eight and Olive streets about 9 o'clock and were unmereifully "guyed" by a crowd of Pool alley sports who hang around the corners. Jeff stood it as long as his Shannon County pride would permit, and then salled into the midst of his tormentors. A free fight resulted, which was stopped by Officers Turley and Heer of the Central District. Jeff and a young man named John Gleeson, allas Walsh, were arrested and locked up at the Four Courts, cross charges of disturbing the peace being preferred.

Jeff's friends busied themselves on being informed of his arrest in getting a bondsman. Three real estate owners offered to go accurity for the lengthy lawyer's appearance, but Capt. Young and Sergt. Mueller refused to release the prisoner. Storts spent the night with the "varmints," and was in none the best humor this morning in consequence. Mr. Dierkes refused to issue the warrant against the officers, advising Storts if he had any complaint to take it first before the Board of Police Commissioners. Capt. Young, when spoken to in regard to the matter, maintained that he was justified in holding Storts, as the law provides that any person in an intoxicated condition may be held until he becomes sober. Storts, he says, was too drank to be trusted on the streets.

"There has been considerable difference of control between my partner and me as to the proper manner of conducting the business. I have been in this same business all my life, and have my own ideas about it. All my plans were opposed by my partner's, so we very soon found that we could not get along together. I have collected some money, but not nearly so much as I have put into the business. Mr. Brucker wrote me yesterday, that the money end of it was all right, and everything accounted for as far as he knew. I expect that very soon I will withdraw from the business and let Brucker run it to suff himself. As to the story of my being mixed up with another woman, that is all nonsense. As to my being suspended from my position in the lodge, that is all the work of my enemies. The lodge has been suspended three times because the papers were not sent to me in time. The first time I did not get the papers from the Secretary until four months too late. The second time not until four days after the money was due, and the third time on a Saturday after it was too late to get to the bank. The fourth time the fault was in a measure mine, but I telegraphed that I would send the money on the Monday fellowing, which I did, as I promised. I have been very bitterly opposed in the lodge."

They are decidedly of the opinion that the School Board has got the wo't of the bargain and that the school fun. of the city has lost heavily either by the ignorance or the care essness of the School Directors. One thing f which they complain is that the property was sold privately on the first offer and was not thrown open to competition. They declare that a much higher price if others had been given a chance to bid. The fact that the sale was made before the real estate men knew that any proposition had been submitted, they did not like, but they speak principally of the folly of selling at neighborhood has sold at prices so much asked for his opinion of the sale. He spoke very earnestly and said: "I don't care much it, except that I hate to see men who have been entrusted with the school funds waste the money in such a manner. If the board had opened that sale to competition s much better price could have been obtained. Why, I would lend $120,000 on that preperty and I wouldn't care whose note I had. I would give Mr. Brookings $5,000 premium on his option right now, but he would not let it go. I don't blame him. I congratulate him, but it was a big mistake to let him have it at that price. Seventh street is becoming one of the best streets in the city and property on it is constantly improving. It is the first through street east of the tunnel and improvements are going up all along it, beginning with Mr. Cupples' buildings on Poplar. The lot on the northwest corner of Seventh and Obestnut was sold by Mr. Catlin to Mr. Wainwright for $1,000 a foot, and there is not a thing on it. Mr. Wainwright is going to put up a ten-story building which will, of course, improve all the property around it, and if that corner was worth $1,000 a fob, vacant, the school property with a building and said that it was strong enough to stand additional stories and that it could be converted into a modern building. Now that was a very nice purchase, but I tell you that the schools lost heavily by it. Just see what improvements are to be made on Seventh street! Mr. Cupples will put up a big building on Seventh and Market, and Mr. Orthwein is about to put up a mother we the opposite corner. Two are about toe build on Seventh n right now, but he would not let it what improvements are to be hause on cerus, street! Mr. Cupples will put up a big building on Seventh and Market, and Mr. Orthwein is about to put up another wn the coposite corner. Two are about to be built on Seventh and Pine; De Menil is to improve his corner and Duke will improve his corner and Duke will improve his corner and Duke will improve his. Three are to no up on Seventh and Olive. Mr. Scudder will put up one on the northwest corner, Mr. Hogan will put up one on the morthwest corner and a syndicate will put up another on the southenst corner. And these buildings are not possibilities—they are assured facts. They can not tell me that property on such a street as that is not worth more than the purcuase price. There are 135 feet on Chestnut street and it was worth not a cent less than $1,000 a foot, which would make the ground alone worth $135,000, exclusive of the building, and the Board could have gotten that price for it it it had advertised the sale.

Mr. Robert M. Noonan was found in his office, on the southwest corner of Eighth and Chestnut streets, and saked what he thought of the sale. "I am glad of it," he said, "though I confess my gladuess is prompted by selfishness. Mr. Brookings will improve the property, and that is what I want to see. If it had been sold to the highest bidder it might not have been improved for years."

"But did the School Board get the value of the property for it?"

"No. It is easy to see that the price was below the value of the property. The Catilin corner, just across the street, was sold for der it might not have been improved for years."

"No. It is easy to see that the price was below the value of the property. The Catlin corner, just aeross the street, was sold for $1,000 a foot, and as Mr. Wainwright is to put up a handsome building there the School Board property should be worth more. And then the building is worth something. Thear that an architect has said that it will stand two mere stories, so it could be made a modern building; still I don's know that it is any cheaper to remodel the building than it would be to tear it down and put up a new one, but certainly it is worth something and the ground alone is worth more than the purchase price. We have forty feet on this corner and the improvements are not valuable, yet we were offered $50,600 for the forty feet and and the improvements are not valuable, yet we were oftered $50,800 for the forty feet and we refused it. We have ninety feet on Tenth and Chestnut and the improvements on it are worth nothing. They would have to be taken down—we will have to take them down; yet we were asked if we would receive an offer of $75,000 for it. I have a letter from Mr. H. S. Fox, dated May 15, 1890, referring to the property on the northeast corner of Eighth and Market streets, a lumber yard it is now. Mr. Fox was offered $800 a foot for it, and he said that he would not for a cent less than $1,000 a foot, and he would think of that for some time beforé he accepted it. That $175,000, and the School Board should have received that for it.

Mr. Charles Green has an improved lot on the southeast corner of Eighth and Chestnut on the same block with the Polytechnic. There is a three-story stone-front building on it. The lot is 60 feet front by 4greet deep, yet Mr. Green refused an offer of $100,000 for it. The School Board lot is 135x100 feet.

Mr. Marcus A. Wolff said: 'I speak very emphatically about this sale, and isay that it was a great mistake. Id not mean to say that there was anything crooked in it, but it was a great mistake. It he first place I think that when property belonging to a trust of that kind, like the Mulianphy Fund or the School Board, is to be sold it should be advertised in St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia and never sold privately for competition will bring better prices. That property as it stands to-day should have brought the School Board $200,000. It was a mistake to sell it for anything less.'

One real estate agent said he thought the $200,000. It was a ment said he thought the thing less."

One real estate agent said he thought the sale was all right; that the fact that the Wainwright lot brought a high price did not necessarily fix the price of all the property in the neighborhood. He requested that his wain wight lot brought a high price did not necessarily fix the price of all the property in the neighborhood. He requested that his name should not be mentioned.

A gentleman interested in the deal gives the following facts concerning it: The corner of Seventh and Market is 110 by 124 feet. Twothirds of this lot was bought less than one month ago by Mr. Orthwein for less than $40,000. Granting an additional value on the corner portion of 25 per cent; on this basis the entire lot would be worth $55,000 or at a large valuation $75,000. While the Gould lot abows on the record as having brought $127,500, the fact is the consideration was $120,000, giving Mr. Catlin at this high price a profit of $30,000 as he bought it within the last year for $90,000. The proportions of this lot are 114x127.6 feet. The Polysechnic lot is 109x 135 feet—less than the Gould lot—and in addition property is perceptibly more valuable as Olive street is approached. A fair valuation of the three pieces of property would then be $75,000 for Seventh and Market, $95,000 for the Polystechnic and $120,000 for the Wainwright. An examination of the old Polytechnie will show that no two rooms of the building are of the same height, owing to the various and widely different purposes for which it was constructed. A remodeling of the interior is an almost impossible mask, as the window openings for the old high ceilings make it a difficult and costly undertaking to gut and conform to any other purpose, such as offices or storecomes.

"The agitation is singularly out of place, too, when a little inquiry will reveal that the building has been offered for years at $125,000 and not one bid has been made. Deducting the purious shave paid had it been sold otherwise than it was, the amount the board would have received would have been a little less ham $122,000. The propose in the building for two hars free, and the difference in the prices is $1,000."

amount of mail during the time when business takes a vacation. In fact social correspondence, as distinguished from business correspondence, does not amount to more than one-tenth of the whole. The collections from one route in the business part of the city will almost equal the collections of the residence portion of the city. There are some houses that send out 1,000 letters a day, and how many families are there that send one letter a day?"

Among the features there will be running, jumping, sprinting and fat men's races and a rowing race on the lake for ladies. Dr. R. M. Kerley will take part in the fat men's contest.

An Important Lawsuit. DES MOINES, Io., Aug. 16.-The Colonial & United States Mortgage Co. filed a suit against the Hutchinson Mortgage Co. of this city for $210,000. In 1880 the Colonial Mortgage Co. $210,000. In 1880 the Colonial Morgage Co., which is an English concern, with headquarters at Hull, England, employed Charles Hutchinson to loan money on farms in lowa and Kansas. The old gentleman died a short time ago, and an investigation was made by which the company claims to have found that the company has loaned $210,000 on inadequate security and against their contract and agreement.

A Pike's Peak Pioneer.

This morning Bass Henderson, the popular clerk of the Lindell Hotel, returned from Colorado, where he has been spending a two weeks' vacation, and resum Mr. Henderson was one of the party that made the first trip over the railroad in process of construction from Maniten to the top of Pike's Peak. The first half of the line has just been completed, and Mr. Henderson was an invited guest on the first regular train that ran over it.

ME EX-MAYOR NOT LOOKING FOR A CON-GRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

He Will Besign His Seat on the Con

City Attorney James J. Butler is to-day the only committed Democratic candidate for Congress in the Ninth Congressional District. He has declared his candidacy and says he in the race to stay. There are four other Democrats of prominence mentioned, but they are making no apparent effort to secure the nomination. They are Seth W. Cobb, George W. Allen, Mortimer F. Taylor and Charles F. Orthwein. Mr. Cobb is a merchant of high standing and President of the Merchants' Richmond Hill. This stock, which lately sold Bridge Co.; George W. Allen is the at 164, advanced to 25, and 1,000 shares were ex. Mayor, Mortimer F. Taylor is a well-todo lawyer, and Mr. Orthwein is a iwealthy morning that it was very safe to say that he was not an aspirant for the nomination. He eft in the early part of the week for New York and in a day or two will take the French steamer La Champagne for Havre from whence he goes to Paris and other European

In a letter received by one of his friends this morning he says that he will return in time to east his vote for the Congressional nomine indicates pretty clearly that he has no desire nation. Only a week ago he was regarded as pronounced candidate for the Congres sional nomination. He said then that he was looking over the field and would shortly decide upon his course. The fact that he left for Europe is taken as pretty sure indication that he does not want to participate in another race for a nomination at least for the present. Some of his friends say, however, that if the party gives him the nomination he will come back and enter the campaign with the determination of securing his election. Others say, however, that the Democrats in the Ninth District are not looking around for candidates this year. the Ninth District are not looking around for candidates this year.
Of the others mentioned Mr. Cobb is in Cali-fornia, Mr. Orthwein is also absent from the city and Mr. Taylor is not supposed to be making any canvass. In view of this state of affairs Rutter's friends claim that he will be making any canvass. In view of this state of affairs Butler's friends claim that he will have a waikover.

Ever since the sturdy young son of the blacksmith politician announced his candidacy there has been much speculation among the politicians as to what is meant. It was at first taken as a joke, but when the Cliy Attorney began making speeches and declaring himself right and left a different view was taken of the matter. Democrats who felt that some other person should be nominated said that the fact that Butler was a member of the Congressional Committee and was known to have a big pull in its ranks would have the effect of scaring some of the prospective candidates out of the race. Butler's connection with the committee, taken together with his declared candidacy for the nomination, has been the subject of much comment and it has been frequently remarked that trouble would follow in consequence.

HE WILL RESIGN.

Speaking this morning of this cause of complaint candidate Butler said: "I have heard no complaints on this score, and if anybody is disposed to find fault, he will not after the first meeting of the Congressional Committee."

"Then you propose to withdraw?"

hrest meeting of the Congressional Committee."

"Then you propose to withdraw?"

"That is exactly my intention, when I dedided to run for Congress I decided at the same time to resign from the Congressional Committee. I represent the First Ward in that erganization and just as soon as Dr. Lutz, the chairman, returns from Europe my connection with it will step. I will say also that I will not ask any favors in the primary election that will not be given to the other candidates, if there are any, I am in this race to stay to the end, and if I am nominated I believe I can be elected."

of the statements that had been attributed to him.

"Among other things they tell," he said, "is that I asserted that I would spend $40,000 to elect my son to Congress. This is not true. I made no such statement. I did not work for what money I've got to spend it in that way. The fact of the matter is, I did not know until this morning that he was a candidate in the strictest sense of the term. I will certainly support him, but not to the extent of spending large sums of money."

Mr. Butler then closed his right eye, looked meditatively out on the street and said something about not believing in spending money thing about not believing in spending money recklessly in politics.

THE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE.

The Ninth District Committee is made up on the basis of the old wards that constituted the district previous to the last re-arrangement of the ward boundaries. The committee is as fellows: J. J. Butler, First Ward; Harry G. Keevil, Second Ward; E. E. Guion, Third Ward; Andrew F. Biong, Tenth Ward; Dr. F. J. Lutz, Thirteenth Ward; L. W. Blanke, Fifteenth Ward, P. J. Woodlock, Seventeenth Ward, Pierre Nagle; Eighteenth Ward, J. Connor, Nineteenth Ward; Frag Waish, Twenty-sixth Ward, and Lew F. Mitchell, Twenty-sixth Ward, The committee will be called to order as soon as Dr. Lutz returns. It will then, if Mr. Butler sends in his resignation, fill the vacancy without delay. Ill the vacancy without delay.

Barney Coleman, a huckster, a living at 3135 Adams street, was knocked down by an unknown man during a quarrel at 1820 So Broadway this morning. Coleman's head struck the curbstone, and a two inch gash is the scalp at the base of the brain was the re-sult. Coleman was sent to the City Dispen-sary. His assailant made his escape.

THE police have done excellent work for the city in the correction of the census lists. This labor was additional to the regular duties of the force, and the citizens should show their appreciation of the aid furnished them in a substantial way.

THE capture of Southern Democratic conventions by the farmers tickles many of the Republican organs and leaders. If they pause and think a moment they may conclude that it would be good strategy to let the Western farmers capture the Republican conventions also.

THE TIN DEAL

The raising of the duty on tin plate from to 2.2 cents per pound and the admission of metallic tin free, as proposed in the pending tariff bill, was at first advocated as necessary to encourage our steel men to procure the required plant for manufacturing the thin steel plates of which tin plates are made. With this encouragement, it was said, they would soon give us cheaper tin plates than we now import under the lower tariff.

But there are alleged tin mines in the Black Hills which certain boomers have een offering to English syndicates as the richest in the world, with iron and coal adjacent to supply all the needed raw material of the tin plate business. They have already capitalized these alleged mines at $15,000,000, although their value has never been attested by any expert or scientific investigation, and the four Dakota Senators have notified the committee in charge of the tariff bill that they will vote against the increased duty on tin plate unless a duty of 4 cents a pound, nearly twice the proposed duty on tin plate, is imposed on metallic tin.

The assent of the committee to this duty on metallic tin is a complete surrender of its original pretense of encouraging the manufacture of tin plate anywhere in this country except in the Black Hills. It is a proposition, very thinly disguised, to impose an additional tax of at least $10,000,000 a year on the consumption of tin plate in order to compel people to use more galvanized iron for roofing, guttering and utensils, and to help the Dakota boomers to unload their alleged tin deposits upon English capitalists.

It was to head off this crooked work of the Dakota boomers and the galvanized iron men that Senator PLUMB proposed to leave the tin duties as they are and pay a liberal bounty to the American producers of tin plate and metallic tin. If the mines are as reported by the boomers they need no protection at all, and the proposed bounty will insure their development without forcing people to use another protected product, galvanized iron, as cheaper than tin.

FIFTY CENTS A DAY AND CODFISH-Senator VEST's Napton letter was not uite as bad a "break" as this wild outburst from Senator HOAR:

While I favor passing the tariff bill, sooner than that this Congress should not ass the Federal elections bill I would prefer o see every manufacturing establishment in Massachusetts burned to ashes and the people of that State required to labor in callings in which they could not make more than 50 cents day and be required to live on codfish.

This is a startling reversal of the horse and cart. When the Republican party was seeking power we were told that its only object was to build up our industries so that the poorest laboring man could be sure of the 'two dollars a day and roast beet" promised him in Grandfather HAR-RISON'S campaign of 1840. But as soon as it gets into power, and before it has redeemed any of the promises made to the labor of the country, the one interpretation, and that is that Democratic Senators are not the only ones that prefer party success to industrial prosperity, nor the only ones ready to proclaim "war to the knife" against manufacturing establishments in the effort to secure "continuous victory" for their party.

UNDER any apportionment law which may be passed the representation of the Northeastern States under the new census will remain as at present, or will be decreased, while the representation of the Western, Southwestern and probably the Southern States will be largely increased. The attempt to control congressional elec tions through partisan machinery i therefore the last desperate grab of the New England politicians to retain power.

GENERAL OVERHAULING OF DEPART-MENT PIGEON-HOLES.

The Board of Public Improvements Dis-poses of a Quantity of Work—No Querum Yet—Work on the New City Hall—Baldy Dryden's Dog—The New Inspector—

The Board of Public Improvements had a sort of house-cleaning this morning and made an effort to get rid of a lot of miscellaneous The Committee on Streets went at it first. They had a great mass of applications for street improvements of various kinds. Mr. Burnet's "I move it be indefinitely posthat it became monotonous, but as a result twenty-five or thirty changes of grade and reion measures were shelved until the distant future when the city's finan-ces will allow the resumption of the work. Then the electric committee took a hand and the whole electrical department was given a thorough overhauling, applications for poles and wires, permits and no end of small matters were disposed of in one way or another and everything put in shape for the new inspector to take held and

The last and toughest job was straightening out the specifications of the Health Department for plumbing at the Insane Asylum. Under the specifications, as drawn up by that department, bids were received and it was found that none of them came under $10,000, while the available money was only $7,400, so that all the bids had to be rejected and the work re-let. The board became assured that the bids would not be lowered unless some changes were made in the ppecifications for the work. They struggled with the job this morning and got all tangled up with Commissioner Furlong, and after some time got things to suit them. The board then held a meeting and indorsed the doings of all the committees, signed a woucher to pay Mr. Matlack a salary for the month of August and then adjourned. parties interested. For a month or more two patent steam pile drivers will be pounding away in Washington Park putting in the piling on which the foundations of the new City Hall will rest. The park now would not be recognized by these who in former times frequented it. All of the trags, with the exception of a narrow fringe around the edges, have been chopped down and carted away. The center has been attacked by the plow and the road scraper until it looks like the location for a circus or the beginning of a base ball park. Around the rectangle marked for the outer waits of the building the pile drivers are traveling, filling the ground with 18-ineh piles.

the recisangle marked for the outer walls of the building the pile drivers are traveling, filling the ground with 18-inch piles, from 20 to 40 feet long, at the rate of sixty or seventy a day. When they have inished there will be between 4,000 and 5,000 sticking in the ground.

The machines doing the work are very ingenious and very effective and are the first of the kind ever used in St. Louis. Instead of the old way of litting a ton or so of iron with a rore and pulley they apply the steam directly to the driver.

An iron frame work some six or seven feet high is fitted between the guide post of the driver, the bottom of this frame is provided with a tapering hole which fits right over the top of the pile. To the top of the frame is firmly fastened a hollow piston rod which fits into a steam cylinder weighing 5,600 pounds. Instead of having the piston move in the cylinder, the cylinder moves on the piston. The lower end of the piston is shaped so as to strike the top of the pincon, through the hole in the bottom of the iron frame. To the top of the hollow piston is fixed a fexible steam pipe, which is controlled by an automatic out off. The steam is turned on through the piston and up goes the cylinder until it reaches a point where the cut-off strikes a cam and lets the steam out. The hammer drops and strikes the pile ablow, which shakes the ground a hundred off strikes a cam and lets the steam out. The hammer drops and strikes the oile a blow, which shakes the ground a hundred feet away. As the pile sinks the whols frame, driver and all, goes down with it. when the machine is in good running order they strike about eighty blows a minute and do very rapid work. The piles for the new City Hall are being driven to a depth of six feet below the present surface of the ground. to the labor of the country, the party raises the cry that "continuous victory" at the polis must be guaranteed to it by a force bill which will enable it to hold its own elections and do its own counting and certifying, and one of its authorized leaders proclaims that, rather than see the party deprived of "continuous victory" by the defeat of this bill, he would see all the manufacturing establishments in his State reduced to ashes and her people forced to work for 50 cents a day and live on codfish.

This proclamation is susceptible of but one interpretation, and that is that

FIGHT OVER A CHILD.

MOTHER'S PLUCKY CAPTURE OF HER LITTLE GIRL

No. 2, Have a Fight Over the Bight to Retain the Former's Child—A Sensa-tional Sequel to a Diverse Case—A Temperary Settlement.

She stealthily crossed the porch, silently opened the door and entered the room.

There on a bed, with her rosy face finshed by siesp, one dimpled cheek resting on a round arm lay a little girl about 8 years of her eyes hungrily gazed at the sleeping child. Sliently leasing over the bed she impulsively kissed the flushed cheek and with a sigh the blue eyes opened and looked into the face of the intruder, "Mamma." cried the little one gleefully, and throwing it's arms around the woman's neck, happily laughed. "Hush, darling, come with mamma," said the woman, and lifting the child in her arms she passed down the steps and had just stepped through the gate into the alley when scream startled her. "Leave the child alone! Stop!" cried a woman's voice, and Mrs. Bertha Williams ran in her arms who was trying to escape her Her arms were full of groceries but these were soon scattered, and with an enraged

"My God, you'll kill the child," screamed the mother in agony of fear. "Let go then," shouted the other. "I won't, she's my baby," other. A DESPERATE ENCOUNTER. There was a scream, a little souffle and the child was thrown roughly inside the gate. The frantic mother sprang like a panther at the throat of the other woman. Her hands slezed her heir and she fought like a tigress.

"I'll kill you! I'll kill you! if you don's give me my child," she screamed, while her fingers sought the throat of the other.

Suddenly a strong arm forced them apart, Micky O'Brien, of Engine house No. 4, separated them.

"What's the trouble here?" he asked.
"This is a nice thing, two women fighting here."

Both endeavored to explain at once with the usual result that nothing could be under-

The child lay on the ground quivering with fright and crying from the rough treatment which it had received.

"I'll let the proper people settle this," said the philosophical freman, and lifting the child from the ground he started off with it. The two women, united by a common impulse, and each determined that the other should not have any advantage, followed. He carried the child to the engine-house and telephoned for the patrol wagon which soon arrived. They begged and pleaded not to be taken away in the patrol wagon, but the officers were inexorable unless they would settle the dispute about the child on the spot. This it was impossible to do, as each was determined that she was right and declined to give in.

They were taken to the Third Police substation, at Jefferson and Dayton avenues, where they were turned over to the Sergeant in charge.

where they were turned over to the Sergant in charge.

"Faith, an' I'm no Solomon," remarked the doughty warrior of the club after the explanation had been made. He declined to decide the matter, and told the officers to take them to the Third District police station to Capt. Joyce, who has the reputation of solving difficult problems and straightening knotty affairs in a thoroughly impartial and altogether wise manner.

The Captain was away, but Sergt. Fox was in charge.

Mrs. Bertha Williams had decided to return to the house to get her husband, and therefore Mrs. Marv Williams and her child were the only ones taken to the station.

Sergt. Fox has assisted his chief in unraveling some tough enarls, but this was, as one of the officers expressed it, "a corker." Mrs. Williams told her story to the grizzled veteran in a straightforward way and it went straight to his heart, which beats bigger and bigger every day under his blue coat.

The CHILD'S PLRA.

The little child came up to him while its mother was telling the story, and placing its luny hands on the stalwart Sergeant's knee, looked straight up into his face. The tears coursed rapidly down the mother's cheeks as she told the story of how her child, had been tiny hands on the staiwart Sergesht's knee, looked straight up into his face. The tears coursed rapidly down the mother's cheeks as she told the story of hew her child had been taken away, and how, spurred on by a mother's love, she had endeavored to again obtain possession of it, resulting in the above-described scene.

"Well. There's only one thing that I can do that I see," said Sergt. Fox. "There's no complaint against yon; you're the child's mother, I suppose?"

"That's my mamma, said the child.

"Do you want to go go home with her?"

"Yes, she's my mamma, and she loves me," smiling replied the child.

"God bless you my darling," said the mother, as she fell on her knees beside the child and clasped her in her ayms. "We'll always stay together, won't we." The tears rolled down her checks and she searly went into hysterics.

"Well, you'll have to get out of here, I guess," graffly but kindly said Sergt. Fox, and as he turned away a suspicious drop rolled out of his eye and ran down his nose. "You can go."

The mother and child then walked out of the door; the sergeant picked up his pen and resumed his routine work while he hummed an air to himself; the files buzzed on the windows and business went on as before.

ABOUT PENNIES.

They Are Legal Tender to the Amount

Twenty-Five Cents Only. "Pennies are only legal tender to the mount of a quarter of a dollar," said Cashier David Have of the Post-office. "This fact eams not to be generally known, and I saw in resterday's Post-Disparch 'An Old Veteran omplains that one of the stamp clerks refused o receive more than 25c in pennies from him netimes men come to the windows with Sometimes men come to the windows with as much as $10 in pennies for which they want stamps. It would practically close a window against the general public for a long time if the clerk were to receive the pennies, for he would have to count them. They are compelled to observe the spirit as well as the letter of the law and rofuse to exchange stamps for pennies in excess of the legal !imit, though the purchaser should make separate tenders of lots of twenty-five pennies. Otherwise the public would be kept away from the window as long as it would be if the clerk accepted all the pennies offered at once.

"Nickels are legal tender to the amount of 50 cents only, all other fractional coin to the amount of $10, and the sliver dollar is legal tender for any amount."

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 16 .- The negroes of South and West in furthering the exodus of the blacks. It is learned to-day from the Rev.
J. R. Febere, Vice-President of the associaion, that next autumn and winter the move ment will be fully as great as ever before, but will be to the North and West. The railroad agents are already here making contracts for the wholesale removal of the blacks. They find willing helpers in the officers of the emi-gration societies. The movement will begin in October. It is stated by Mr. Febers that it will at first be from the turpensine region, a little Southwest of the center of the State.

WIRE OWNERS APPEAL

PROTEST AGAINST THE OFDER FOR THEIR REMOVAL FROM THE EXCHANGE

Special Beeting of the Beard of Directors Called to Hear Their Protest—Why the Order Was Issued—The Grounds of Dis-satisfaction—Chicago's Probable Change

HE order issued by the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Exchange, requiring all private wires to be removed from the has given rise to a great deal of discus-sion and no little dissatisfaction. At present only five firms are affected, but it is un-derstood that several rangements for sup-plying themselves avor the action of the board. dividuals engaged in the grain commis business, the fifth being the property of R. Nichols, who supplies the bucket-shops of the Southwest with quotations from Onicago

ARGUMENTS FAVORING REMOVAL. the floor privileges granted the private wire owners is two fold. Some based their com-plaint on the alleged fact that the private country trade that was formerly divided among a large number of houses. They assert that on the floor of the Exchange all should stand on an equal footing, and that no one should be allowed selves. Another argument was employed by those strongly opposed to bucket-shops.

They asserted that if the private wires were removed from the floor of the Exchange that the bucket-shops dependent upon St. Louis

They asserted that it the private wires were removed from the floor of the Exchange that the bucket-shops dependent upon St. Louis would be greatly delayed and hampered. It was stated that the proximity of the Nichola wire to those of two commission firms enabled him to pick up a great deal of important information for transmission to his correspondents which he could not otherwise obtain, and that it was to the interest of sil Exchange members to curtail bucket-shop trading as much as possible. These arguments were deemed sufficient by the Board of Directors to justify the issue of the order requested.

CASE OF THE WIRE-OWEERS.

The owners of private wires are by no means willing to accept this decision as final, and as soon as the order was issued took steps to secure a rehearing. They claim that they were taken by surprise and did not have an opportunity to properly prisent their case. Vice-President Bernheimer has in accordance with their request culed a special meeting of the Board of Directors for Tuesday next, when the ship of the Board of Directors for Tuesday next, when the ship of the board of Directors for Tuesday next, when the ship of the board of Directors for Tuesday next, when the ship of the board of Directors for Tuesday next, when the ship of the board of Directors for Tuesday next, when the ship of the board of Directors for Tuesday next, when the ship of the board of Directors for Tuesday in the floor has always been allowed, that their business has been regulated in accordance with them, and that it is manifestly unfair to make a sudden alteration without atrong reasons for it. Much stress is laid on the course that the Chicago Board of Trade is pursuing in regard to wires upon the floor. As will be remembered, the directors of that body in May less ordered all Western Union and Postal Telegraph wires from the floor. This was not done because of any dompinint of unfair advantages obtained by one firm over another, but solicly as a move in the contest waged by that Exchange against the buck

EV. GEO. C. HARRIS. Episcopal Church

more of Mr. Harris was not unexpected by the courte's governing board, it is very much regretted by it and by the congregation, to which his ministrations have been most acceptable. Mr. Harris succeeded Father Benedict, who came upon the heels of the popular Father Betts. He came from Memphis. Tenn., and he resigns to return there to live. Mrs. Harris owns a large plantation at Appandel. tation at Annandale, near Madiso n Station, Mias., which Mr. Harris directed. He had a er arch in Memphis where he ministered withto far charge, and he also looked after several follows, on "How to become book of the follows, on "How to be several follow tled charge more agreeable. A few weeks ago he went to Annandale to est, and there came to the conclusion that it essary for the protection of his intersts that he should remain. He writes Mr. Thomson that "the whole drift and trend of egislation here is against the non-residents, nd if he is to be protected in his property rights he "must sleep there nights."

This son, who is quite a young mas, has been living on the plantation without any congenial society, and his desire to be with his parents and sister furnishes hir. Harris an additional reason for withdrawing from his work at Trinity.

It is not known who his spacessor will be; indeed the vestrymen have not had an opportunity of discussing that question informally. The church is small and the membership is small, but it has been for years one of the innest important religious bodies in the city. Heat of the members are very high church in their views, and some time will probably elapse before another rector is secured.

A large number of new councils have been instituted in various parts of the city.

He Recevers From the Effects of Drink and Leaves to Ride in the Futurity. Patsy Duffy, the once famous jockey, has gone East with a hope that he may redeen himself by riding for Senator Hearst in the Futurity Stakes in September. Duffy went to pieces in St. Louis this summer. Drink was the cause of his downfall. Several times he was arrested for being drunk on the streets, was arrested for being drunk on the streets, but as he was never disorderly he was released as soon as he was sober. In July he was thrown out of an Eighth and Pine streets saloon, and a policeman who picked him up preferred a charge of vagrancy against him in the Police Court. Judge Casy fined him $25, which was stayed on condition that Duffy leave the city immediately. He was a wretched looking object when released from the court pen, and there was little of the famous jockey in him.

Jack Maloney, the fireman, had known Duffy when by his dash and generalship he was attracting the attention of the horsey

Jack Maloney, the fireman, had known Duffy when by his dash and generalship he was attracting the attention of the horsey world. Maloney thought there was material for a good man still in him, and resolved to give him a chance to show it. He was taken to St. Vincent's Asylum and placed under treatment for alcoholism. Gradually he recovered his old form, and was on Wednesday released from the institution. Maloney fitted him out with new clothes and Thursday night the jockey left for the East.

Haggin brought Duffy out. He won many victories for that stable and earned an enormous salary. His success went to his head and he took to drinking. On the St. Louis track one day he was impudent to President Green. He was expelled from the track, but the order was revoked when Mir. Haggin threatened to romove svery one of his horges from the ground if it was allowed to stand; However ne was rever permitted to ride a Haggin horse. He then devoted himself to the bottle regularly, and when he came into St. Louis this summer he was not good for much. Friends tried to help him but he liked whicky too well.

Now that he has been through a severe course of treatment, he is anxious to get back his old position in the regard of his friends, and has resolved to drink no more. If he persists, he has plenty of friends who will help him up again. He is full of hope for a better future.

in replenishing his stock of clothing very cheapiy. He told city drummers of wholesale cheaply. He told city drummers of wholesale establishments that he expected to start a general store at Pinckneyville. Ill., and selected a stock of goods for which he said he would pay yesterday. He did not appear then, and goods that had been packed for shipment have been returned to the piles and boxes. On the strength of his "purchases" he got a pair of shoes from Kelly, Goodfellow & Co., a hat from Goodbar, White & Co., underclothes, hose and night shirts from Rics, Six & Co., a pair of ladies' shoes from the Brown-Desnoyers Shoe Co., a satchel from Herkel & Melsel and a suit of clothes from snother firm. He tried to get a watch at the Providence Jewelry Co., and the C. R. Hettel Jeweiry Co., but saied as beth places. The Laglede has a hill against him for board. FATE OF THE FORCE BILL.

QUAY'S RESOLUTION TO EXCLUDE ITS CON SIDERATION IN THE SENATE.

Beed Counts a Querum on the Nat McKay Bill—The Anti-Lettery Measure to Be Disposed of in the Heuse Te-Day—The President Invited to St. Jeseph—Wash-

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 .- In the Senate this rning Mr. Quay asked unanimous consen offer a resolution for a change of the rule bill on the 30th of August and to limit other legislation to appropriation bills, public liding bills, conference reports, etc., but was not received.

The Fate of the Force Bill,

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16 .- The Quay res elution is still the problem of the hour. No body understands it. The Senators continued the discussion of the river and harbor bill to-day to get time to think it over. One thing is sure, the election bill will not be passed this session unless the rules are changed, and there is not much chance of that, for eighteen Republican Senators are opposed to considering the bill at this session, twelve of them are opposed to it altogether. President Harrison and Speaker Reed, however, are in favor of passing it and both say it should be passed this session. A caucus will be held early next week and it is not known what course may be decided on then to get the Senate out of its quandary. The Republican Senators who are opposed to the bill are:

Aldrich, Allen, Cameron, Davis, Dixon, Hiscock, Jones (Nevada), McMillan, Mitchell, Paddeck, Pettigrew, Plumb, Power, Quay, Stockbridge, Teller, Washburn and Walcott.

Invited to St. Joseph.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 16 .- This morning Charles F. Ernest, Postmaster at St. Joseph, Mo., who, by the way, had a very interesting contest to secure whe honor, reached the capital. In company with Maj. J. G. Brock, he called upon President Harrison and in behalf of the committee having in charge the arrangements for the Sons of Veterans' annual encampment in St. Joseph the last of this month, presented the executive with a very handsome invitation to attend. The souvenir was beautifully mounted upon satin, and in every way a costly affair. Mr. Ernest said that he had been delegated to present the invitation on behalf the Sons of Veterans, who would like to have him visit St. Joseph that an opportunity might be had to wripe out the stain that was cast upon Gens. Grant and Sherman twenty-odd years ago, when their reception was anything but a cordial one. The President replied that he would be glad to accept the offer, but that his labors were such that he would not be able to get away from them. He added that the finest sight which greeted him while in Boston was the army of Sons of Veterans who followed the veterans in the grand parade. Mr. Ernest leaves for the West this afternoon. ital. In company with Maj. J. G. Brock, he called

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16 .- The Galveston harbor bill is practically passed. The House did pass a separate bill providing for the work at a cost of $6,000,000. In the Senate the provisions of this bill were included in the river and harbor bill, and that amend-ment passed the Senate yesterday without opposition. The House will no doubt concur when the bill goes back to it next week.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16 .- In the Senate WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.—In the Senate the consideration of the river and harbor bill was resumed this morning—the pending question being on the amendment proposed by Mrs Frye to the Harlem River Item.

Mr. Hawley offered an amendment to the amendment, the principal distinction being that the new bridges shall be without any draw spans or draws or openiags. He said that the whole proposition was distastful to him in some respects, but that the amendment offered by him would give the people of New England a clear, straight ride into New York City without any draw bridge and that they could stand their share of the money thrown away on the Harlem River as well as the rest of the people of the country. The most sensible thing, he believed, would be to fill up the whole of the Harlem River and heve a grand boulevard there on which more passengers and freight would be carried than on all the boats that might float there. That was what the Chief Engineer had told the Committee on Commerce, and that was the "bottom judgment" of the New York Central Rallroad (Oc. if it would only say so. New York needed no more wharfage. She had got a good deal unoccupied. She could occupy a hundred miles of wharfage on the Hudson and as much more on the East River and Long Island Sound.

After a long debate the amendment offered by Mr. Hawley was rejected—yeas 22; nays 22, and the amendment offered yesterday by Mr. Frys for drawbridges was inid on the table with the understanding that the whole question would be determined by the Conference Committee. the consideration of the river and harbor bill

The vote then recurred on the Nat McKay bill and the bill was passed—yeas, 83; nays, 65, the Speaker counting a quorum.

Mr. Oannon of Illinois from the Committee on Ruies reported a resolution for the immediate consideration of the anti-lottery bill, the previous question to be considered as ordered at 4:40 clock this afternoon.

Mr. Breckenridge of Kentucky put on record his opposition to a rule which fixed a time for the previous question on the bill. He was in favor of the measure, but he thought that the House and not the Committee on Ruies ahould determine the duration of the debate. The resolution was adopted, and in conformity with its provision the anti-lottery bill was taken up.

Mizpah Ringe. When was it that the fashion arose among overs and friends of presenting each other with rings engraved with the word "Mizpah" in token of love and fidelity? It is a curious oustom, and presupposes a singular ignorance of the real significance of the word, says the London edition of the New York Heraid. According to the Sist chapter of the Book of Genesis, when Laban pursued and overtook the runaway Jacob, they had a somewhat warm discussion, which resulted in a treaty; a pillar was erected, beyond which neither of the contracting parties might pass towards the other to his hurt; and because these somewhat shifty Orientals had neither of them the slightest belief in the good faith of the other, they went through certain religious ceremonies, piled up a heap of stones as a slient witness, and the name of the hean was called "Mizpan"; "for, he said, the Lord watch between me and these when we are absent one from another," the obvious intention being, not to commend the absent one to the protection of Heaven, but rather to its watchfulness, so that he might be divinely detected and punished for any act of treannery. It may be that some givers of "Mizpan" rings nowadays read the story aright; but their knowledge cannot be general, else surely would tew be found willing to accept a gift of so equivocal a significance. n token of love and fidelity? Trying to Bring About a Truce.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 16 .- The freight managers of the roads in the Texas Association are still trying to bring about a settlement of the complications between the Texas roads to complications between the Texas roads to enable a restoration of rates, which are now lower than they ever were before. After arguments had been presented by the St. Louis, New Orleans & Galveston delegations, a committee was appointed to try to reach a conclusion as to what she basis of rates should be from the various initial points. The St. Louis delegation appeared before the association to-day and presented arguments avainat changes in the classificaarguments against changes in the classifications or reductions in differentials, which they say are deadly to the interests of the jobbing trade of St. Louis. The St. Louis firms represented are Paddock, Hawley & Co., Rice, Stix & Co., Shapleigh-Cantwell Hardware Co.; Hargadine, McKitrick & Co., Harris, Wear & Boogher Dry Goods Co., and the Greely Burnham Grocer Co. The delegation is strongly opposed to the proposition to place a differential rate of 14 cents against St. Louis in fayor of Galveston. arguments against changes in the classifica-

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 .- A flerce rate war is in progress between the Morgan and Malloy Steamship Lines over the freight business be tween here and Galveston and other Texas points covered through the railroad connec tions of these companies. The rate on first-class freight rates has fallen from $1.78 to 40 cents per hundred pounds, The Morgan people say the Texas railroads caused the war by a wholesale cutting of their rates. To save their business the steamship companies had to do the same. Yesterday the rate was 40 cents, which hardly covers the cost of hand-ling.

A New Wisconsin Line.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 16 .- Articles incorperating the Wisconsin Bee Line & West Superior Railway Co. have been filed with the Secretary of State. The incorporators are C. D, Smith, Frank N. Scott and James O. Ackerman of Fond du Lac, and the act is declared to be the construction of a railroad from Milwaukee to West Superior. The capital stock is $3,000,000. The articles state that the length of the contemplated road is 360 miles.

The Burlington's Bad Faith. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 16 .- Trouble is growing out of the report that the Burlington has made secret freight rates to Eastern points despite the agreement recently made by all the lines to restore and preserve the rates. The Burlingson officials deny the report, but the other roads are by no means satisfied. Trouble is expected to follow, which will be good for the shippers but hard on the roads.

The road from the mansion to the barn was under a gorgeous archway, composed of trees, shrubs, flowers, tropical plants and Chinese and Japanese lanterns and other illuminations, that part of it leading across Regent street having been carpeted for the occasion. The decorations of the barn consisted of a rare profusion of unartistic materials, but of such tastefulness of arrangements to produce original and pleasing effects. The celling of the main carriage-room, where the dancing was done, was one mass of all kinds of green vegetables, arranged in the form of a gigantic star, forty feet square, while the side walls were draped with harnesses, robes, blankets, whips and every possible variety of horse trappings. In one corner, hidden in a bower of ivy, was the orchestra. In another corner less and liquids were served.

Ministerial Hospitality.

From the Chicago Advance.

Clerical hospitality is declining. The min-ister's house is no longer the stopping place of all ministers who pass his way. Possib the change to both host and guest is in son respects des irable. The virtue of hespitality may sometime s be a hard drain upon the may sometimes be a hard drain upon the narrow larger of the parsonage, but it does tend to promote that hearty fellowship which ministers need and which they are glad to give and receive. Every one in Massachusetts knows the Rev. Defniel Butler, the agent of the Massachusetts Bible Society, a man with such a reputation for wit that it must indeed be no small straip even for one who has so much ability to sustain the reputation. Mr. Butler tells me that fifty years ago there was hardly a parsonage in Massachusetts that he would not feel free to enter as an uninvised guest, but that now there is hardly a parsonage into which he would feel free to go without a special invitation. I coofess that I rather mour the old days of clerical hospitality.

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16, 11 a. m.—The stock market this morning presented a moderate volume of business and a decidedly strong front, and in most cases the highest prices for the week were reached. The opening prices were from it to be per cent higher than last evening's figures, the only prominent exception being Sugars, which was off 56. The feature of the trading was the activity and strength in sliver certificates, which were advanced rapidly from 115by to 117b. Stocks sympathized closely and everything to 117b. Stocks sympathized closely and everything with its per cent, Rock Island and Louisville & Kashwille, and the others following. Sugar Refineries, after opening off 85 at 52, made a further dip to 81bs, but later recovered the loss. The upward movement became less pronounced late in the hour and the market duil, and some stocks even shaded off slightly from the highest prices. At 11 o'clock the market was duil and firm at about the best prices reached. Noon—Money closed easy at 4 per cent. The stock market was till very guite after 11 o'clock and was dull and firm at about the best prices reached.

Noon-Money closed easy at 4 per cent. The stock market was still very quiet after 11 o'clock and prices shaded off from the high figures of the previous hour, though the firm undertone still prevalled. The dealings were uninteresting in the extreme, no movement worthy of notice occurring inthe entire list, although Missouri Pactife lost all of its early gain. The market finally closed dull and barely steady, but generally at slight fractions better than the opening figures.

Corn is very active at the advance. Cats—Trade to derate at extreme prices. Provisions rules trong, with a good local demand. Any let up in recipits of hogs will give us higher prices for the roduct.

F. G. LOGAN & CO.

Special to J. C. Ewald.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 16.—Wheat—The market has been fairly active and very nervous, with quick and sharp fluctuations. It has been a strong and decidedly builting market for which it's useless to attempt to give an adequate reason.

Zariy cables we noted a decidedly better outlook in the Dakotas and Minnesota, for which they estimated a crop of 93,000,000, and yet the market advanced sharply. Prime's weekly moan wasaccepted so conclusive and every body bought, the only sellers being longs content with big profits. The only builties factors were higher, private cables noting howery weathe, and the fact that we have this erop year exported 12,000,000 last year. The market closes strong. No bear dares sell a bushel, and the buils all continue buying. While this continues it is useless to attempt to work the bear side.

this continues it is useless to attempt to work the bear side.

Corn very dull early, with trading confined to scalpers, although the undertone was strong on reports of very high prices for cash corn in the West. The bulge came later in the day, being started by some New York buying and catching the scalping crowd short. Offerings were very small until the market reached top prices.

Provisions were very strong with a good class of buring. Offerings were at times so light of por sud lard as to render it impossible to execute order at mere nominal. The market close is strong with indications favoring higher prices.

There was some lively trading in wheat on the early curb this morning. December opened there at $1.048, sold up to $1.05 and off to $1.644. The Minnearolis Market Record still sticks to the estimate of a $3,000.000 bu wheat crop for Minnesola and the Dakotas.

The Paris 'Bullenin des Halles'' estimates the French wheat crop at 280'000,000 to 288,000,000 bu. against 314,000,000 bu in 1889.

The aggregate exports of flour and wheat from the United States during July were equal to 7,230,971 bu. against 7,015,986 for July, 1889.

A London cable save: "The estimate of the English wheat crop is 3,800,000 bu less than last year. Eugland will probably require 152,000,000 bu and France 40,000,000. Rains are reported in some sections. If the unitavorable weather continues we will have to reduce our estimates." For the first time since 1847 the House of Commons of Great Britain and Ireland calls attention to the state of Ireland and the failure of the potato crop, it is so serious. MARKETS BY TKLEGRAPH.

The head lines of Prince's crop report read: Pastures and meadows short, Lower condition of corn than at last report. Spring wheat going into stack and threshing commenced. Millers free buyers of wheat, Offerings from farmers not large. Plewing for the new crop of winter wheat. Corn still suffering greatly from the drouth.

Unlimited orders to buy No. 3 red wheat were received to-day from Kentucky and Tennessee mills, but they could not all be filled, so scant wore offerings and so stiff and high-priced were sellers.

Advices from France are that the Southers and Western departments in France are believed to have gathered a good crop of wheat. of the serious results of the forcible eviction and taking possession of the billiard hall on the southeast corner of Leffingwell avenue and Olive street.

George L. Cook and Samuel Baldwin entered into a verbal agreement of partnership about two months ago and opened the billiard hall at No. 2746 Olive street. Baidwin's name was on the window as proprietor and in a few days a Constable attached the place on an old judgment against, Baldwin, who not own any part of the property bu was merely acting as manager. It was agreed that Cook should put his name on the door as proprietor and it was done. Baldwin and Cook had a falling out about two weeks ago and Baidwin appeared in court and asked for a receiver, saying he was not allowed to enter the billiard hall or share in the profits. Harry Weldon, the painter next door, was appointed Divorce Matters. Mrs. Mattle A. Lynes sues Woodson Lynes, whom she says has failed to support her, is addicted to drink and has spent the past few years of his life in idleness and debauchery. years of his life in idleness and debauchery. She and her children have supported themselves by their own labors by keeping boarders on Washington avenue. Two children were born of the marriage and she asks to be granted the custody of them.

Mrs. Jennie Harmon asks to be divorced from Harry Harmon for various reasons. She says he beat her, knocked her down and tried to steal her child. They were married in May, 1883, and in September, 1889, she left him.

Desertion is the ground for divorce alleged by Mrs. Ida Fauntieroy in her suit against Richard B. Fauntieroy, to whom she was married in November, 1885. He left her in June, 1887.

Attorney Frederick H. Bacon has begun suit against Janette Hitz to collect $2,00 which he claims is due him as a fee. He states that he became Mrs. Hitz's attorney in September, 1886, and filed a $5,000 damage suit against the Missouri Pacific Entirond Co. for the killing of her husband. His fee was to be one-third the judgment. After making some progress with the case Mrs. Hitz secured another attorney, and later was given judgment for $5,000 with interest, or $6,000 in all. Mr. Bacon sues for one-third of the amount collected. Legal Notes.

Frank Block has been granted letters of administration on the estate of Henry Block valued at $5,500.

A RECORD OF CRIME.

The Events of a Week in Abbeyville County,

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 16 .- Abbeyville County in this State has for a record of crime week. Julia Burton, the wife of Ned Burton, to pieces with an ax. The husband at the same time was hanging by an iron trace chain to a rafter in his barn. His neck was broken and as railroad laborer, was chopped to death with an ax by Peter Ashley. Jenkins had wen the affections of a woman who had lived with Ashley and had deserted him for the comelier Jenkins. Ashley crept up from behind when the twe were talking and drove the sharp edge of the ax into his rival's head with ter-edge of the ax into his rival's head with terrific force.

Hosa Wilson, a young and pretty woman, died from the effect of a builet wound. Her lover, John Connor, saw her go home from church with another man. He protested and she trified with him. He become desperate, and one more murder was theresult.

The crowsing crime and the most horrible of the series was that of two boys, aged 10 and 12. They are 5am and Marion Nance, who were the wards of their uncie. Nelson Nash. The two children confess the crime in all its details, and are delighted with their success and the consequent notoriety. As they tell the story the crime was done on Sunday while Nash's wife was at church. Sam watched his chance and dealt his uncle a blow with a hatchet, and when he fell the two set upon him, one with a pole ax and the other with a hoe. When he was dead they hitched a horse to his feet and dragged the body across haif a mile of cotton fields to the ditch where it was subsequently found. The young murderers subsequently found. The young murderers are in fail.

Bacon was employed in a large dry goods house in Kansas City, whither his future wife, a Miss Davis, hastened after a short correspondence, and after considerable persuasion induced him to marry her. Shortly after the ceremony Bacon was urged to advance $5,000 on property belonging to his wife's parents, to release a mortgage of that amount held by the O'Day brothers of this city, who, Bacon Claims, were angered at his intervention, as they hoped to gain possession thereof themselves. In return for this accommodation he was arrested for having fits. He was jailed with a crowd of toughs and, he claims, desied a hearing and was finally released by makinga bill of sale of $200 worth of personal effects. He was then warned to leave the country which he did and seems to consider himself in luck to get away from such a crowd. He claims that the O'Days are at the bottom of his troubles. The charmer who induced him to part with his money is said to be young and quite pretty.

DES MOINES, Io., Aug. 16 .- Attorney-General John Y. Stone of Iowa, has given a written opinion as to the present status of the Iowa prohibitory law in so far as it affects the Iowa prohibitory law in so far as it affects the interstate shipments of liquors. In substance he says: The effect of size decision of the Eupreme Court in the case of Leisy et al. vs. Hardin, was to deny that the probibitory law was applicable to interstate shipments of liquors. The effect of the recent act of Congress was to make such liquors subject to that law. In my judgment, the true construction of the recent act is that the State laws already in existence as well as those hereafter enacted, should apply to liquors coming into the State for use, sale or storage. The language of the law of Congress as well as the reason and object of its enactment, supports the view that a re-enactment of the State law is not necessary to give vitality to its provisions.

BROOKLYN-WASHINGTON.

PROGRESS OF THE NEGOTIATIONS FOR TRANSFERRING KENNEDY'S TRAM.

shington Will Probably Again Becom Good Shape to Meet the Leaders in the Race-The Interstate League in Trouble -Races at Guttenburg and Brighton Beach.

THERE is every prospect of the Brooklyn Club finishing out the season at Wash ington. The negotiations reported in the POST-DISPATCH as having commenced, are proceeding satisfactoridied takes well at the capital is evident from the following remarks in the Washington Post: "It has been the ex-that Washington would in the Association next year, but no one looked to see an American Association team here this year, for it was expected that the season. Since the collapse of the Washington have been turned this way as a pos-sibly profitable venture. It is true that the Brooklyns are tall-enders-defirst-class teams. Then, too, Joe Gerhardt is a O'Brien and Ed Daily formerly played with lar. Thus the team would become in a measure identified with the city at the start. The advantage would be that the Association would be in the field for next year. The Atlantic Association now holds Washington's franchise, but if the Wilmington Club or some other team does not succumb in the meantime another city will doubtless soon be admitted, and the city will become free territory, open to the first comer. It is said by those who claim to know something of the minds of the Brooklyn man-agement that the prospects for that elub fin-ishing the season here are very brilliant. It is the belief of the Association, the manage-ment, and the players that the club would do better here than on their home grounds. The is the belief of the Association, the management, and the players that the club would do better here than on their home grounds. The League set the example of playing scheduled games in other than League cities, and there is no reason why the Association should not do the same. President Phelps of the Association, believes that the proposed move would be a good one. Manager Kennedy, of the Brooklyn team, is expected here shortly to see what arrangements can be made, and to ascertain the feeling about supporting an association team. Negotiations have begun for leasing of Capitol Park for two years, but Mr. C. A. Snow, the principal owner of the grounds, could not say yesterday whether the negotiations were in behalf of the Brooklyn team or not. He gave his terms and has heard nothing more about the matter. That was a week ago. No negotiations locking to the rent of the grounds for the rest of the season have yet been begun."

It is evident the Brooklyn team would be more welcome at Washington than in its present home, if indeed if it has a home, which is more than doubiful. It is necessary to look ahead a little in base bail matters, and if the Brooklyn team could get itself well established at the Capital before the ead of the present season, it would start in comfortably next year. The association has to other cities in the circuit is objectionable and frequently unfair, and transferring to neutral territory is a confession of weakness which may be all very well in two unhealthy leagues, but which is entirely out of place in the Association, the succession of weakness which may means, but the eagerness of both leagues to form a combine with the American Association, show pretty plainly who holds the key to the situation. The proposed transfer will strengthen the only base ball national organ-

The game at Sportsman's Park yester gave young Millard a chance to show a terms with the Forest Citys for next season. Two singles, a double, two triples and a home run is a pretty good record for a batter in one game, but that's what Weaver of Louisville did Tuesday, and he was at bat only six times, which probably explains why he did not make two home runs.

The Cyclones played a game that was not regularly scheduled. The opposing side was made up of the Association directors. Von der Ahe umpired, and of course the Cyclones were skunked or bunkoed. They will have to take it out on the Browns.—[Louisville Commercial.] Certainly, if they can. A Record Beaten.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 16 .- Dan Leahy of the M. A. A. C. has made a clean sweep of the four events in which he competed in the Irish-American games. The St. Louis man's best American games. The St. Louis man's best work was in putting the 56-pound weight for height, his distance being 13 feet 6 inches. This is a remarkable performance, and beats the previous Western record. He put the weight 24 feet 6 inches in the contest for length, having over a foot lead of any opponent. In the haumer throwing he was also an easy winner, throwing the great distance of 89 feet 9 inches. Leashy's great work was loudly applicated, and he returns home a distinctly conquering hero.

ruptly and alone, taking a large sum of the bride's money with him, and that another lady claiming to be the fugitive's wife had arrived just too late to intercept him.

Eight months ago a handsome stranger came to Pine Grove, hired a room and hung out a gorgeous sign with the inacription, "James Van Nostrand, Dentist." He was a regular attendant at church and became a social favorite, many young ladies vielag with one another to secure him as an escort. The prize (such as it was) was captured by Mrs. Rushbrook, a handsome widow of 25 years with a comfortable bank account. They were married last Wednesday by Rev. Waiter Mackinnon. The bride's residence was brilliantly decorated and illuminated for the occasion. After dinner the couple began to make preparations to take the midnight express for Elmira, where a week was to be spent prior to a European trip. Van Nostrand, who was apparently in the happiest meed, begged the bride to excuse him while he went to the depot to arrange for tickets, and with many loving injunctions to hurry back he left the house and was seen no more. He carried with him, she says, $3,000 in cash, which she gave him a few hours before the marriage to bear the expense of a three-months' trip. A further surprise was the announcement that the fugitive had a wife and boy 6 years of age living in Pittsburg. Through some mysterious means wife No. I dicovered his whereabouts and arrived here yesterday morning in search of her truant husband. Van Nostrand at the last moment, it is said, heard that his wife was on her way East and it was this that caused his hurrled departure. She feels keenly disappointed that she did not arrive in time to catch him. Van Nostrand is an assumed name.

Mrs. Lamoine pursued her husband from Cincinnati to North Carolina and Georgia, back to Cincinnati, thence to Florida, thence to Boston, and to New York. There she received intelligence of the death of her father, which delayed the pursuit. When she resumed it she went again to New York, thence to Boston, thence to Lowell, next to Boston, thence to Worcester and finally to this city, where she overtook the fugitives.

Coffey rendered the decision which made her four times a millionaire and was found taking life very easily and not the least excited by the change which had taken place in her life. An elderly gentleman entered the room while the reporter was waiting for the heiress. His hair is as white as snow and a face where years and care have left a deep tracery; but there is still seen the expression of the indomitable will that has carried the plaintiff through one of the most bitterly contested cases ever known to history. This is "Grandpa Perry." The fair, light-haired woman beside him is his wife, the woman who has been a mother to little Florence since her infancy. She has a plain, yet comely face and the calm look of one used to assuming responsibility and capable of meeting it.

Miss Blythe herself is not over 5 feet and 2 inches in height, and she is very slight, weighing at the most about 110 pounds, but her small figure is straight and well-proportioned, and she carries herself with unusual dignity for so young a girl. Her blondebrown hair is arranged in a loose coil at the back of her small, shapely head, and a short, fluffy bang hangs over her forehead. Her complexion is pale, but not unhealthy, and she has a mobile, expressive face, with clearly defined, arched eyebrows and blue-gray eyes fringed with long, dark lashes. Her neck is white and slender, and she has an unusually shapely hand, not the plump, soft hand common to girls of her age, but a hand with character—long and slender, act too thin, with tapering fingers and firmly articulated joints. It has a gentle but firm clasp, and no one who touches it can feel that this is an ordinary, unformed, plastic girl who owns is.

On the occasion of the visit the young lady, who has just come into a fortune, wore the simplest possible dress of Sooth gingham, a modest plaid of pale blue and gray and white sinceves gathered as the shoulder and at the embroidered chemissets and with the simplest possible dress of Sooth gingham, a modest plaid of pale blue and gray
